Projects

A recent project I have worked on was the development of a company website for a company called GRITH20. They are a water company that promotes excellence perseverance, and our team wanted that to show in our design. We focused on simple and clean design with CSS elements that elevated our site. Our HTML was meant to be clean and easy to read and our use of classes helped keep our CSS organized. Overall, I gained a lot of great experience from this site and project. Please feel free to check it out here: www.github.com/robynwaddell/water.demosite

Work Experience

MarTech Intern at Exchange Technology Services

- Supervisor: Lauryn McCarthy
- From: May 2023 – August 2023

During my time at ETS I was part of a team that built our company's website, helped manage our social media, as well as some of our clients, developed print material and helped create our service lineup of marketing material. I also helped manage some of the technical needs of our clients such as video and photo editing, website management and asset creation.

Cashier and Delivery Driver

- Employer: Harry's Foods
- From: August 2021- November 2022

At Harry's foods I helped expand and streamline the delivery services, I was trained in every department as I was able to adapt easily and as such was often called in for odd jobs. I worked with customers both in person and virtually and helped with inventory, order fulfillment and store organization.

Stage Manager for the LRCSS Grad Fashion Show

- Employer: Lisa Michaleski
- From: February 2017 – February 2019

I was the stage manager for three consecutive years at my high school, here I practiced team leadership, time management, and worked both the audio and visual systems as well as directing the orchestration of the show in terms of timing and managing the models so they went out at the appropriate times.

Volunteer

Throughout high school I volunteered coaching young girls in Ringette, a sport I had played for years growing up. To this day it remains one of my most life changing experiences because of the way it taught me to lead, communicate, and spread enthusiasm for the sport. I got to see girls gain confidence, make friends, help them celebrate wins and support them through losses. It helped me refine my time management, my focus and patience.
